<https://bendev.netlify.com>

I am a full-stack software developer with professional experience building enterprise level applications. I am fluent in multiple languages and technologies across a variety of application frameworks. I really enjoy solving problems with code and putting these solutions to work. I am results-driven while focused on delivering the optimal user experience. I would be thrilled to talk about what I can offer you.

At this time I am exclusively available for remote employment opportunities.
